

Jordan's Story

Jordan's journey has been marked by challenges, including a diagnosis of a nervous system disorder at an early age. His resilience shines as he navigates through life with limited vision and restricted mobility in his left arm and leg. This past year, he embraced a milestone by participating in the Special Olympics, exemplifying his determination and inspiring those around him.

Jordan is set on a wish that's about to come true – a visit to a Florida theme park. His enthusiasm is contagious as he discusses his plans with friends and family, even conducting his own research on the countless wonders that await him at the park. He's intrigued by the myriad of options they offer and has even explored various types of hotels, showcasing his love for preparation and a fondness for knowing the itinerary in advance.

Despite his quiet and shy demeanor, Jordan's optimism shines brightly. He's open to new experiences that align with his capabilities and comfort level. Online gaming, movies, and staying updated on the latest releases are among his interests. His joy knows no bounds when it comes to swimming, camping, making smores by the fire, and relishing family gatherings and BBQs. These moments become even more special, particularly when they include his cherished Kokum (grandmother) grilling his favourite burgers.

Full of excitement, Jordan counts down the days until his wish becomes a reality!

I wish to go to a Florida theme park

Jordan, 11
nervous system disorder

“Jordan is most excited to "go to LEGOLAND, have a real family vacation and stay in a cool hotel", shared his mom Kassandra. "He simply loves hotels.”

believe in the POWER of a wish